eighteen under 18 Logan Kray Edgewood High School- Age 17

Logan is a dedicated athlete and active member of the Edgewood High School community. He is a member of the Edgewood Athletic Council, Edgewood Captains Leadership Council, and member of the National Honor Society. Logan is an active three-sport athlete as a member of the football, basketball, and baseball teams. During his sophomore year, he led the Edgewood baseball team to its first CVC league championship, earning himself Player of the Year honors. Currently in his junior year, he has developed his skills and pushed to be one of the best players in Ashtabula County. Logan devotes countless hours of work to improve his skills in all of his sports, and encourages his teammates to go above and beyond in their own efforts.

Logan volunteers to coach at various youth camps, including the youth summer basketball and baseball camps. Logan is also a role model to younger students, and volunteers in the elementary school, teaching responsible decision making, how to handle bullying situations, friendship interactions, and social interactions outside of the classroom and on the playing fields. Logan maintains a 3.9 GPA in the classroom and takes AP courses, as well as college credit courses through Kent State University. Logan is always willing to try something new, treats everyone with respect, and is an incredibly hard worker on the field and in the classroom.
